THE GOAT LADY by Jane Bregoli. Two children and their mother, new to the neighborhood, befriend Noelle Houle, an elderly lady who raises goats. Her other neighbors bemoan "The Goat Lady's" rundown house and barnyard animals, but the children see how she cares for her goats, they listen to her stories, and they come to love her. For many years Noelle provided goat's milk for people who needed it and sent her extra goat kids to poor people in poor countries through Heifer International. The children's mother paints a series of paintings of "The Goat Lady," and her art show at the local town hall helps the rest of the community see Noelle's kindness and courage. This is a wonderful true story.

BILLY'S GOAT by Cynthia Davidson Bend

Billy's Goat is a novel for young readers that will charm adults also. Life on the Brock family farm in the 1950's provides an exciting school for Bill, Jane and Sammy. At the neighboring goat dairy, Bill watches the birth of the kid he longs to have, then gets a job at a horse farm to earn money to buy it. His friend, Doug, rescues his pet blue jay as an egg from a bull snake.

For Bill, fun with his kid is shadowed by the sinister neighbor who threatens to butcher Bill's kid. The excitement in this story hinges on animal behavior. Discover how a trained blue jay can save the lives of both a kid and a boy from the deranged neighbor. This is a story modern children need. Tech Tonic, a publication of the Alliance for Childhood, reports that the average American can recognize over a thousand brand names but is unable to identify ten indigenous plants or animals.
